The Center for Social and Economic Behavior (C-SEB) at the University of Cologne (UoC) brings together researchers from economics, management science, and psychology to investigate the mechanisms that determine social and economic behavior. As one of the UoC Centers of Excellence, C-SEB provides funding for outstanding individuals and excellent collaborative research projects in the field of behavioral economics and social cognition.

INFORMATION ON C-SEB GENDER RESEARCH GRANTS

To initiate new research projects on gender related topics, such as gender inequality, gender production, and conceptualizations of masculinity and femininity, C-SEB invites applications for the following funding measures:

Gender Research Grants of up to 4.000 € are available for researchers with promising ideas for new scientific projects approaching gender from a behavioral economics or social cognition perspective.

Eligibility and requirements

Gender Research Grants are open to all researchers at the Faculty of Management, Economics, and Social Sciences and at the Faculty of Human Sciences that are employed at or receive a stipend from the University of Cologne. This includes professors, junior-professors, postdoctoral researchers, and doctoral students. The content of the proposed research project must be related to the overall topic of C-SEB.

Application and selection procedure

The decisive criterion for the granting of funds is the scientific quality and originality as well as the cost efficiency of the proposed research project. Individuals are allowed to submit one application as main applicant per round. The C-SEB Executive Board meets twice a year to select among the received proposals. The application deadlines are April 30th and October 31st.

Please submit the application form, which is available on our webpage, along with a research proposal and the CV's of all involved researchers in one single pdf document to c-seb@uni-koeln.de. Application materials shall be limited to a maximum of 2 pages for each CV, 2 pages for each proposal, and 1 page for references (Arial 11pt./ 1.15). Please be prepared to deliver a short presentation about your proposed research project.
